Description

This Inlaid Oval Satinwood Occasional Table is very attractively enhanced by the clever use of inlay. The segmented top with contrasting line inlay, leading to crescent segments, topped off with a darker contrasting crossbanding is a joy on the eye. The elegantly tapered legs are themselves inlaid with lines, banding, and contrasting oval panels at the top of each leg. The legs are themselves finished off with a brass square cup castor. There is further inlay in the side rails too. The satinwood is a glorious warm hue, and this table is both very stylish as well and being of a useful size.
