Description

A charming small vintage walnut bureau dating from circa 1920s. Having a fall front with leather writing surface with fitted interior over a single frieze drawer on cabriole legs with pad feet. There is an attractive brass escutcheon to the fall and the drawer features brass drop handles. To the interior are five shaped pigeon holes. In a Queen Anne revival design, it is a good quality piece and a small size. A small makers label to inside drawer, worn away but appears to say "Mastercraft Furniture". Construction/Wood Walnut veneers Condition Report: Good condition with good colour and patina, solid and sturdy. Some small chips to the veneers in places. The key doesn't work – it is just there to help open the fall. Dimensions: Width: 58cm Depth: 44cm Height: 90cm Height to Fall: 67cm Drawer Internal: 33cm Deep x 47cm Wide x 13cm High
