Description

For your consideration is this beautifully styled original Art Deco double wardrobe, English and dating to the 1930's. Features round shouldered doors, all raised on a contrasting darker figured walnut veneered plinth. The doors are book paged and have a wonderful tiger grain in a honey blonde tone. All original fitments to include chrome waterfall handles with cream bakelite accents, locks, catches, clothes bar, even the hinges are stylish in highly polished chrome which runs the full length of the doors. No expense was spared when this wardrobe was manufactured. The interior offers a generously sized space for all your needs, with upper open box shelving and two tier hanging areas below culminating in a full width hanging space. As with all our furniture this piece has been taken through our workshops and professionally cleaned and polished to a high showroom standard. Everything works as it should, doors open with ease, locks work, very sturdy and well constructed piece of furniture that will last your lifetime.
