Description

An excellent quality sugar bowl by Elkington & Co. Birmingham England. Hallmarked with a makers mark and date letter for Birmingham 1857, depicting the young Queens head. The bowl is of fine quality having pierced fretwork and scenes of Roman senators, chariots, man on horseback and what appears to be centurions. The glass is frosted and the handle is nicely worked with a platt effect style. The bowl stands on its beautifully detailed feet. Elkington & Co was founded by George Richard Elkington and his brother, Henry Elkington in the 1830s. A third member joined in 1842 Josiah mason. It operated as Elkington, mason & co until 1861, then the partnership finished. The firm operated independently as Elkington & co from 1861-1963. It was then taken over by British silverware ltd. Over the years Elkington received various Royal warrants of appointments with one of their famous pieces in the Victoria and Albert Museum.
