Date of manufacture: Edwardian

Description

This is a very fine example of an Edwardian inlaid mahogany metamorphic drinks table. Made by J Bagshaw and sons, Liverpool. The quality is excellent, the condition is perfect as is the polish. Very rare hard to find such a perfect example of this patented table. Lifting the top reveals a lift-out mahogany framed tray with brass handles. All the mechanisms are working perfectly and with ease. There are swags of inlays to all 4 sides, the top has inlaid floral panels to each corner and cross banding with stringing to the edge. Standing on the square cup brass casters. A very charming piece of craftsman-made furniture. Height is 31 inches. The top is 22 inches by 23 inches.
