Description

This antique William & Mary style wing armchair is extremely comfortable with good back support & generous proportions. It's just been re-upholstered in a top quality imitation textured leather, which has a lovely soft feel & actually feels like leather. This wing chair has a shaped hump back, with pronounced wings & a loose cushion which has been re-made inside. It has swept out arms & sits on carved walnut feet. The base of the front & sides is nicely shaped too. If you enlarge the close up images you can see the texture on the cream vinyl. It's in excellent condition, dating from around the 1890 period & a great looking armchair especially in the cream colour.
