Late C19th Victorian period brass-framed stick or umbrella stand with cast-iron base. Smart 8-division polished brass stick-stand with classical urn finials on a cast-iron base with removable 'blackened' tin 3-partition drip-tray. The blackened cast-iron base provides good stability and strength. One polished brass turning bears the 'kite' registration stamp of the period, a system which records its choice of materials and precise dates of production.
