Description

Regency style twin pillar dining table This Regency style twin pillar dining table was made during the reign of King George V. The cabinetmaker selected redundant antique timber to use for the top as this was better quality than he would be able to find on the market at that time. The bases would have been constructed to suit. He used the classic Georgian/Regency style for its elegance and timeless beauty. This was made for a luxury apartment overlooking the sea on the Overcliffe, Bournemouth. The size is perfect for a smaller dining room or another apartment. 189cms long with the leaf in place 74 1/2ins 107cms wide 42ins 75cms high 29 1/2ins 128cms closed without leaf in place 50 1/2ins 60cms leaf 23 3/4ins All Measurements are approximate, whilst we take care in measuring there may at times be a very slight difference.
