Description

Jules Le Roy 1856-1921. Born in France, possibly the son of Jules le Roy, a painter of still life. He was renowned for his paintings of cats executed in oil and watercolour. Paintings of cats were highly coveted by the wealthy upper classes of the 19th century and Le Roy's charming compositions of domestic cats in domestic interiors were particular favourites. His works remain just as popular today, found in important private and public collections such as the Musée d'Art et d'Industrie (Roubaix). 'The Judge' signed oil on relined canvas, image size 45x37cms, framed size 64x56cms; housed in its original decorative plaster and giltwood frame which is inscribed with the title.
