Description

Framed oil on canvas showing a view of a house by a lock on a cloudy day. The painting is signed by the artist Armand Jamar (1870 - 1946) and dated 1939. It is mounted in a quality gilded frame and slip. Jamar trained as a lawyer in his hometown and became a doctor of law. In 1894 he also took lessons at the Royal Academy of Liège, where he was a student of Evariste Carpentier. He gave his first exhibition in Liège in 1900. In 1904 he settled in Schaerbeek in the former studio of Constantin Meunier. He also regularly participated in exhibitions at the "Salon des Artistes Français", where he received an honorable mention in 1904 and finally the gold medal. He also participated in the Brussels Salons (1910), Antwerp and Ghent. In 1921 he gave an individual exhibition in Brussels at the Cercle Artistique et Littéraire. Jamar started as an impressionist with vivid colors and broad brushstrokes of landscapes, cityscapes, interiors and seascapes, many painted in the wild. His first works are influenced by paintings by the early Impressionists such as Eugène Boudin and Johan Barthold Jongkind. He also created a number of genre paintings about markets and factory life.
