Description

A good 19th Century French Rococo mantel clock with an 8 day drum movement and striking on the hour and half hour. With Original key. Cast in ormolu, the case displays garlands of flowers and overall foliage culminating on four scrolled feet. The white enamel face shows painted Roman chapters and the hands emanate from a central gilt floral disc. It is in very good condition and keeps good time. I think it's important to mention that the chimes are pretty and soft as opposed to shrill. We can deliver free of charge in UK mainland. Payment by bank transfer or PayPal.
