Description

A stunning American Arts & Crafts Library or Console Table in Blonde Oak Circa 1885. Beautifully designed and crafted. The plank top construction sits above a deep frieze with carved and pierced decoration. Central drawer with attractive cut brass escutcheon and handle. Pretty heart design to its corners. The square legs are joined by an inset shelf with fretwork and scrolled shell decoration. The lower shelf is flanked by deep set side stretchers which has lovely carved galleries and carved floral detail to their centre. The figured legs have bulls-eye detail to their top and terminate in block feet. A handsome piece of furniture that has multiple functions. Would make a lovely console or library table but definitely make a statement piece as a desk.
