Description

Victorian leather reading chair This Victorian leather reading chair was made circa 1860. The carved solid walnut show wood is richly carved to the front arms that runs down to the elegant cabriole legs and having lovely scroll carved hand grips. The oval deeply buttoned leather back adds not only to the comfort, but support for you as you relax and the presence it will give to your home. This Victorian leather reading chair has been fully upholstered and recovered in the finest leather that was put on in a raw state before it has been hand dyed and then finished in the perfect faded green. The finish has been applied so that it looks as if the leather has been there all the chairs life. Imagine relaxing in this chair and the pleasure of ownership will bring you as friends and family are bound to want to try it as well. 93cms high 36 1/2ins 61cms deep 24ins 70cms wide 27 1/2ins 38cms seat height 15ins 56cms seat depth 22ins All Measurements are approximate, whilst we take care in measuring there may at times be a very slight difference.
