Description

Fine quality pair of mid 19th century gilded bronze three branch wall lights. These are in really good clean condition with all the original gilding which is a very pleasing colour. Originally made for candles they have been adapted for electricity in Edwardian times. They could be put back to candles easy enough or would need to be re-wired for electric. They are a really pleasing design. They are easy to put up as there is a hole top and bottom for fixing to the wall. No damage to the castings. SIZE; 20" high by 12" wide CIRCA; 1860 - 1880
