Description

This is a superb antique chifffonier. A Scottish, oak sideboard cabinet, dating to the mid Victorian period, circa 1860. Revel in the exquisite figuring to this attractive Scottish cabinet. Displaying a desirable aged patina and in very good order. Select Scottish oak offers fine grain interest and an abundance of medullary rays. Rich caramel hues beam beneath a quality wax polish finish. Classical pediment sits above the whole, over a useful display shelf on shaped bracket arms. Generously sized buffet sideboard at a comfortable height of 92cm (36.25"). Arranged as a wide central drawer over a two-door cupboard base. Cabinet base framed by two carved pilasters, sitting flush with the drawer above when closed. Drawer dressed with brass drop handles over shaped backplates with male masque and foliate detail. Small brass, lock escutcheon to door over a working lock — key present. Stout shelf to interior well sized for a dinner service or a drinks collection. Standing upon a deep continuous plinth with shaped bracket feet. This is a superlative antique chifffonier with sublime medullary rays gracing the Scottish oak. Perfect for the grand dining room or the drawing room drinks party. ...
