Description

Early 18th century Walnut chest of drawers. This chest of drawers is a super colour with lots of patternation and character. As is common for a chest of this period, it has had a few sets of handles. The bat wing handles it has at present are the right handles for the period. This piece is veneered in quarter veneers to the drawers and on top with pine sides. This piece has short grain around the drawers and top. It has a lip moulding around the drawers which are lined in oak. The chest stands on bracket feet. C1730 - st 2072
