Description

Late C19th salt-glaze pottery sculpture of a lion . Well-modelled pottery lion after the Sir Edwin Landseer original sculpted for the base of Nelson's Column in Trafalgar Square , London . Good detail to the head, mane and body , the front paws displaying sharp claws or talons . Produced and stamped by "Chadwick Parker & Co . Totley , Sheffield " . The majestic male guardian lion is depicted in a lying , alert and vigilante pose . Salt-glazed fired pottery with a rich deep brown hue , resembling patinated bronze . In good original condition with some minor historic damage to an area of one front paw and to the tail . Highly decorative and evocative sculpture which would be suitable for an interior or exterior scheme . H 18" W 28" D 15" England c.1890
