Description

Vibrant and full pile antique Sauj Bulagh runner woven in the Kurdish region in the far North-West of Persia, dating from the late 19th century. They are known for combining elements of classical early Persian drawings with a bold and vividly colourful village aesthetic. The natural dyes are really tremendous, with corrosion to the brown dyes, a lovely sign of age. Plus soft pinks, oranges and greens too, the ivory white dye lifts the whole composition as well. The pile height is very high and thick too, as the wool used on runners and carpets from Sauj Bulagh is extremely soft and luxurious.
