Description

A highly unusual silver plated warming / cooling tureen. Dating to the mid 19th Century, it has no makers mark. The removable top section is in the form of a standard serving tureen, standing on a base reservoir for either hot water or ice. The tureen has a removable twist handle and is of beautiful small proportions. The condition is very good with no dents and only the smallest amount of surface wear. A rare object, that I feel had a specific function within the very elaborate array of Victorian tableware. Weight approx 1.2kg. Total height approx 14cm. Total span approx 21cm. Total width approx 14.5cm.
