Description

This is my first ever green field Bakshiash and I'm loving it! Green is the best colour in an antique decorative carpet and this one has a fascinating range of shades that give energy and life. A really good carpet should have character and personality, to bring life to your room. As the most important piece of furniture in it, it should be your most important purchase, as everything else is dictated by the it. A fantastic chance here to get something no-one has, but they all will want....
