Description

A Highly Attractive Walnut Stick Barometer. This elegant walnut barometer is rather similar to the work of quite a famous maker called John Patrick who plied his trade C.1700. Although not signed it is thought to be of similar age, a very good early 18th century walnut barometer, walnut veneers applied to the oak carcase with an open cistern cover, hood pillars and curved pediment. Height: 38? or 97cm CIRCA. 1700
