Description

This is a rare piece of silver by William Comyns, lovely cherub decoration which Comyns is well known for. The silver is in lovely condition, the marks are clear. The centre is a porcelain plaque which can be written on and can then be cleaned. However it is also possible to insert paper as there are two screws to the back which release the silver top and allows a pad to be inserted. There are one or two minor nibbles to the edge of the plaque. Sadly there is no pencil with it, but it works with a normal pencil. The leather is in pretty good condition commensurate with age. London 1897. Unusual pretty piece. W 16 cm H 26.5 cm D 1.5 cm
