Description

This is a large antique breakfront sideboard. An English, mahogany and flame mahogany cabinet, dating to the early Victorian period, circa 1850. Superb Victorian craftsmanship with striking grain. Displays a desirable aged patina and in good order. Flame mahogany offers alluring grain interest beneath a wax polish finish. Mahogany top sun-kissed with mellow caramel hues. Trio of attractive ovolo shaped drawers with blind pulls sit above four cabinet doors. Each drawer with deep fascia over oak boxes with dovetail joints. Flame mahogany doors with field panels, the central pair dressed with small, circular brass pulls. Inset brass-lined locks to the outer doors — untested, with key absent. Central cabinet arranged with a useful single shelf. To the breakfront outer cabinets, the left cabinet hosts a pair of shelves. On the right hand side, a useful drawer of deep proportion. The whole standing upon a stout plinth base. This is a delightful antique breakfront sideboard, graced with superb mahogany stocks and striking grain interest. Solid joints and construction, delivered waxed, polished and ready for the home.
