Description

A very good quality mahogany buffet / dumb waiter dating from the mid 19th Century. It has three tiers supported by turned columns with pretty turned finials and it stands on large original ceramic castors. It is in good original condition and is a sturdy piece. There are signs of age and use, some old surface scratches and light marks which has developed a lovely rich patina. There is also a small old split in the corner of the top tier but it isn't detrimental. The buffet runs well on the castors and displays beautifully. A very useful and functional piece of furniture. Reputedly once the property of Lord Denning. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
