Description

This is a very well made and unusual Indian cupboard with bold Gothic design influence. Made from extremely heavy teak which has gained the most amazing colour over the years. Thick brass handle and latch on the cupboard doors. Great size but not too deep meaning it won't take over a space. Perfect overall condition as well. The interior is shelved and is made from a different wood. It has the most amazing smell as well. A very unusual piece that would work well in a number of interiors.
