Description

This is a stunning pair of Victorian his and hers open armchairs. Both chairs stamped with the same number to confirm they were made together. The horsehair stuffing is still in place but the blue leather is later and works so well with the walnut frames and legs. Both in perfect condition with the only fault being some slight tarnishing to the applied studs. The designs of these are similar to that of Jas Shoolbred. They are both great shapes and extremely comfy. I think would work well in a number of interiors as is but should you prefer we can recover these in fabric or leather.
