Description

This is a Victorian mahogany sideboard of good quality. Sorry about the shiny bit I took the pictures outside, and the sun caused dazells. It does get sunny in Scotland now and again. The pictures show the sideboard being built up, it comes into many pieces for easy transport and for getting into the more difficult of houses. 2 pedestals stand on the base and hold up the top board which has 3 drawers then comes the lovely backboard with carved mahogany decoration. This is a really good-looking piece of mid-Victorian furniture made in the day when wood was king and not the stuff they use to day, this is about 160 years old and will still be here in another 160 years. The price is good at £975. The size is as follows. 6ft 10inch wide. 5ft 4ich to the top of the backboard. 2ft 4inch deep.
