Description

~ French - Circa 1870 ~ ~ Excellent condition, fully overhauled ~ ~ A fine and stunning original antique French boudoir clock. It is beautifully made of ormolu (finely gilded bronze), very well modelled and chased, and mounted with exquisite Sevres style porcelain. The ormolu is in stunning, untouched, original condition with contrasting polished and matted tones. Porcelain has a blue ground and is delicately painted with a delightful scene of a children with their mothers in a country setting. The dial is beautifully decorated with delicate overglaze gilt decoration. The porcelain is signed to the rear including the movement serial number. Please note that this type of clock does not have a glazed front or rear door. The French movement is of very high quality and has the clockmaker's mark on the movement backplate and on the original pendulum. It is in excellent clean and running condition having been fully serviced by our clockmaker. It runs for 8 days on one wind and strikes the hours and halves on a bell. We have a video available of the clock running, please ask and we will send as link. Condition of the case is superb, original condition with a clean and bright...
