Description

A well-presented antique Edwardian mahogany kneehole desk. The rectangular top has a moulded edge and an inset red leather writing surface. The twin pedestal desk base has an arrangement of nine fitted drawers around the kneehole. Each drawer is fitted with decorative brass swan neck handles. Raised on a plinth base with castors. Of large proportions. Separates into three parts for ease of transport and movement. No key present but all the drawers are unlocked. Item Ref; M-2372 . DIMENSIONS: Height – 73.5cm / Width – 137cm / Depth – 73.5cm / Legroom – 57.5cm . CONDITION REPORT: In good antique condition throughout with some signs of age. There is surface wear in places, including some age-related marks to the top and front (pictured). The leather writing surface remains in good condition with minor marks and wear but no major rips or tears. Small repair to right-hand side (pictured). The drawers all run well. All castors are present. Separates into three parts for ease of transport. No key present.
