Description

A Fine Victorian Carriage Alarm Clock c1860 ~~~ Excellent original condition throughout ~~~ This is an original Victorian carriage alarm clock dated to around 1860. It has a traditional gilt case with a shaped fold down handle and bell in the base. It is in excellent condition, bright and clean yet showing the patina which you would expect from a clock of this age. The movement is of very high quality, runs for a full 8 days and keeps good time. The original enamel gilt masked dial is perfect with no hairline cracks or chips. All of the glass panels are perfect with no cracks or chips. The movement is in excellent clean and running condition having just undergone a complete and comprehensive overhaul by Alan Williams of Plymouth Clocks who is a fellow of the British Horological Institute so you can be assured that this clock will give trouble free service for many many years before requiring any further attention. The platform escapement is original and the alarm functions correctly. A beautiful high quality victorian carriage clock in wonderful condition which will give great pleasure for many years to come. This clock has obviously been highly prized and loo...
