Description

A good pair of silver plated candelabra dating to c1840-1860, but very much in the Georgian manner. Two branch but with removable central plug, to become a three branch. A very impressive and heavy quality set. No makers mark. The condition is good with very little wear, one small dent to one column, but some slight damage to the under sconce decoration - please see photographs. Condition is reflected in the price. Overall a very stylish pairing that would grace any dining table. Total weight approx 5kg. Total height to top of sconce approx 46cm. Total span approx 41cm. Base diameter approx 14cm.
