Description

Victorian large mahogany dining table This Victorian 12+seat mahogany dining table was made circa 1860 It stands on the most desirable waisted fluted legs that have brass cup castors. This Victorian dining table has the feature of a fifth central leg, this supports the mechanism and helps make this stable when it is fully extended. The table winds out on a patent winding mechanism that makes this easy to open to take the 3 leaves. You of course can use this with any combination of leaves to suit your dining requirements. The solid mahogany top has an all-over consistent honey colour. We have restored and repolished this sympathetically to leave a beautifully waxed finish, with a patina that just makes you want to run your hands over the fantastic surface. Imagine entertaining around this stunning dining table with your family and friends and the joy of ownership it will bring. 312cms (123ins) when fully extended with the leaves in place. 142cms wide 56ins 76cms high 29 3/4ins 152cms long when closed fully 60ins The 3 extra leaves are each 53cms (20 3/4ins) All Measurements are approximate, whilst we take care in measuring there may at times be a very slight difference.
