Description

An English 'St George' Pattern Chess Set, 19th century one side in boxwood the other side in ebony, in a 19th century mahogany box with a sliding lid, the interior lined in green baize King: 10.4cm high, base diameter: 3cm Pawn: 4.2cm high, base diameter: 2.2cm Box: 18.5cm long, 13.5cm wide, 9.2cm high Stock Reference: MJ 1924 Nice example of an original antique St George Chess Set. The St George Pattern was a standard pattern used in the Victorian period, and especially before the introduction of the Staunton pattern in 1849. It is similar in style to the so-called 'Old English' pattern. Chess sets like these would have been turned in country workshops across England.
