Description

This superb quality Chippendale Design Mahogany Writing Table is a fine example of the cabinet maker and carvers art. Decorated with a profusion of extremely detailed carving, there really is so much to enjoy with this table. The generously proportioned legs have a particularly good shape to them with a bold cartouche on the knee and terminating in a glorious scroll toe. The rails of the table are decorated with blind fret incorporating yet more meticulous carved detail. The lower and upper mouldings are also carved. The central drawer is of a very good depth offering a generous amount of storage, and the drawer itself is a secret drawer and not immediately obvious and so not spoiling the lines of the piece. The top has carved decoration to the edge and is lined with a distressed antique green coloured hide with a good amount of tooling. This table is finished all round so can be placed in the middle of a room. It is sure to make a statement wherever it is placed.
