Description

A lovely oak desk chair dating from the early 20th Century. It is a good comfortable chair and very well made with a cushioned seat. It has an attractive shape with curved back and scrolling arms with turned supports. It stands on turned legs joined by turned stretchers. It makes a lovely desk chair but would also be a nice library or hall chair. It is approximately 34 1/2" (88cm) high and the arms are 24" (61cm) wide. The seat is approximately 21" (53cm) deep and 18 1/2" (47cm) high. It is in excellent condition for its age. It has developed a lovely aged patina with a rich colour and is structurally very sound. There are signs of age and use and it is not without a few small marks here and there and a few old repairs but nothing detrimental or untoward. It has been gently cleaned and polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
