Description

A lovely oak side table of small proportions dating from the mid to late 18th Century. It has an over-hanging top with moulded edge set on tapering turned legs with pad feet. It has a single long drawer with brass plate handles. It is in good condition for its age and the colour and patina of the wood are superb. There are signs of age and use and some old marks but no major damages. There has been a repair to the corner of the drawer and there has also been a repair to one back foot. The handles are not original but have been on there for some time and suit the piece well. There are some minor signs of historic woodworm but that hasn't affected the table aesthetically or structurally and it has all been treated as a precaution. The table is strong and sturdy and displays beautifully. It has been cleaned and gently polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Nationwide delivery available through our network of reliable couriers.
