Description

Oh my – this is wonderful. This amazing Edwardian diamond pendant is formed of four (fully articulated) parts. The top piece of the pendant – the bale – is set with fifteen rose cut diamonds in three rows. The second part is set with a further six row cut diamonds and links to a circle of fifteen chunky rose cuts within which sits a trio of rubover set old mine cuts. A stunningly designed pendant set with top quality diamonds. Please choose a 16? or 18? platinum trace chain (this is included in the price). Accompanied by an independent jewellery report from IGR (#30309651). Cut – The three central diamonds are old mine cuts. The other diamonds are rose cuts. Colour – F to H. Clarity – VS1 to SI1. Carat – The combined weight of the central trio of diamonds is approximately 0.80 carat. The total combined weight of the rose cut diamonds is conservatively estimated at 0.10 carat. Circa – 1910. Measurements – The main circle is 16.4mm in diameter. From the top of the pendant to the bottom is 32.8. Metal – The pendant is platinum. Tested. The chain in the photos tests as 18k white gold. This can be changed on request.
