A very rare example, I have never seen this back before, it is an English piece but has a very continental feel to it. The leather is thick cattle hide, it has the original horse hair padding which surrounds the coil springs. The piece is tufted to the back and sides and has lovely folds of leather neatly hand nail tacked in place with antique studs. The sofa has been fully restored to include having the old colour washed out, its then been hand dyed this wonderful rich whisky brown, the timber has been French polished.
