Description

Antique Red Tortoiseshell French Ormolu Boulle Clock With Angel Mounts. This beautiful antique French boulle clock has a shaped "hour glass" style case and has a fantastic red tortoise shell front with intricately inlaid brass boulle work. The sides and back of the clock are then ebonised which emphasises the colour of the front fantastically. The case then has an ormolu mount to the top with further mounts to the sides including small angels. The clock then has a fretwork panel backed with silk and surrounded by a further ormolu mount. Finally there is a further shaped mount to the bottom, as well as four beautiful shaped brass feet. The dial is then enamel and set out in enamel panels set out in blue roman numerals. The dial then has the minutes being laid out around the outside in Arabic numerals. Finally the dial is finished by two shaped, gilt fingers as well as a domed and bevelled glass set into a brass bezel. The movement is then wound from the front and accessed from the back. It is ticking away as it should and chimes both the number of hours on the hour as well as one strike on the half past via a bell. The movement comes complete with its pendulum and key...
