Description

This is a fine example of a lovely American Ansonia 8 day striking 'Gingerbread' clock dating from the mid 1880's in an oak case in lovely unmarked virtually original condition. This handsome clock has a brass bezel surrounding a beautifully clear dial with the original hands present and comes with my two year guarantee as standard. With American clocks you always get a lot of value for money and this recently overhauled clock certainly does not disappoint. Rather than trusting a courier of any sort I unreservedly recommend collection or I can deliver regionally or nationally at a competitive rate with a full handover experience for the client. These clocks have a fragile glass and even the best courier damages items. Also the pendulum will need reattaching within the movement so it is far better for a dealer to meet a client and talk them through the process, or set the clock up properly for them, rather than leave the client struggling at the other end on their own.
