Description

For sale this exceedingly rare Japanese Imari tri-pod bowl of double ogee form dating late 17th early 18th century. Standing on three undamaged masked legs and of double ogee form I have only managed to find one similar example held in the Dresden Collection. The bowl has a size of 14.8cm diameter and 8cm tall. Excellent condition with one small rim chip professionally restored. This piece has been well looked after over the centuries shown little wear to the gold and iron red and is still very bright. This is a fine rare example that would grace any collection. Price £395.00 Plus shipping £60.00 shipping to Bermuda.
