Description

Antique Gothic Double Fusee Bracket Mantel Clock By Frodsham London Pull Repeat. Please note that the clock is listed for collection in person although delivery can be arranged by either myself or a courier. This stunning antique Double fusee bracket clock has a fantastic mahogany case with a beautiful gothic design. The top of the case has two wonderful obelisk style spires to the left and right with beautiful carved mouldings leading up to the main point in the middle. The front of the case then has a wonderful shaped door with a brass dial surround to the inside flanked by two barley twist columns. The sides of the case then have wonderful gothic style brass fretwork panels backed by red material so that the chimes can be heard more clearly. Finally the bottom of the case features further moulding leading to the four wonderful carved feet on each corner. The dial is then painted a fabulous cream colour and is set out in black Roman numerals. The dial has a wonderful, and unusual shape in keeping with the gothic design and features a smaller subsidiary dial reading "STRIKE" and "SILENT". The dial is then signed to the centre "FRODSHAM Gracechurch St" as well as "LO..."
