

SA815771

Antique Meiji Japanese Bronze Figure Of A Fisherman Carrying Holding A Carp

Price

SoldItem Reference: SA815771*Date of manufacture: 19th Century

Description

Antique Meiji Japanese Bronze Figure Of A Fisherman Carrying Holding A Carp. This wonderful Meiji bronze figure depicts a Japanese bronze man stood wearing traditional clothing cast in exceptional detail. The man is depicted smiling holding what appears to be a carp that he has caught, with his rod in the other hand with the line leading to the fishes mouth. The piece shows a fantastic amount of detail showing everything from the hair on the mans head to capturing his expression perfectly on his face. The whole piece is then mounted on a wonderful cross section of walnut root which sets it off perfectly. The piece is also signed to the mans bottom half by the maker. A truly beautiful example of a meiji bronze with a fantastic subject which would look beautiful in any collection or home. It measures approximately: - 9.75" / 24.5cm Tall. - 7" / 18cm Wide. - 6.5" / 16.5cm Deep.

Seller Details

N Wilson Antiques Clocks

Cheshire United Kingdom

Tel: 07704 152890

International Tel: +44 7704 152890