Description

A superb pair of early 18th-century carved George I mahogany chairs, circa 1720. Each chair is of rich colour, patination and carved throughout. The shaped crest rails have two scrolls on each end joining to cascading s-scroll styles and vase-shaped splats leading down to a fixed shoe. The bell-shaped seats are raised on cabriole legs with carved shells, eared and scrolled knees and terminate on pad feet connected by shaped turned stretchers.
