Description

Remarkable by the size this is an exceptional Cornish model of a lighthouse lamp . The colour if the stone is typical of the best serpentine stone and is beautifully finished and polished . It was produced as a lamp and is therefore drilled through the centre and out of the base , although it would not appear to have been wired and used as a lamp . There are two small issues , the glass shade has two large chips and the serpentine cap has two chips on the underside as shown in the images . Altogether a stunning piece of Cornish art , of a probably unique size , standing over 3 feet in height . UNFORTUNATELY ; Whilst in transit to an exhibition , the stone base was damaged . We have had it restored and although not ideal it does not detract from the drama of this model as there is no damage to the serpentine . WE HAVE THEREFOR DECIDED IT IS ONLY CORRECT TO REDUCE THE PRICE FROM £2200 TO £1150 . UK delivery only.
