Description

A good quality small antique Edwardian mahogany lady's writing desk with drop leaves dating from circa 1905. With hinged fitted stationary compartment above a single frieze drawer on elegantly shaped legs terminating in brass casters. Would make an attractive writing table, hall table, side table or desk for a laptop. The original leather writing surface has lots of age and wear so would benefit replacement. Main drawer locks and comes with a key. Dating from circa 1910. A really good quality piece. Construction/Wood: Mahogany Condition Report: Good condition – solid and sturdy. Nice patina to the wood. Marks, scuffs and wear commensurate with age. Lots of age and wear to the leather writing surface useable but would benefit replacement.
