Description

This is a pair of antique gentleman's club armchairs. An English, oak and leather fireside seat, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910. Wonderfully long of thigh for relaxed use Displays a desirable aged patina throughout Later, professionally dressed leather of high quality presents beautifully Select oak frame shows fine grain interest and dark hues Shaped top rail with carved foliate lozenge decoration to centre Short back rest accentuated with press stud trim border Sinuous, long arms with wonderfully figured oak a tactile treat Carved knees to front with stepped form and reeded detail Inviting chestnut hues to the leather seat coverings Traditionally stuffed, the cushions host a classic polo scene upholstery to the reverse In light vermillion, the fabric reverse shows polo players mounted on horseback Standing upon squat bun feet with a set of four brass castors to each corner This is an appealing pair of antique gentleman's club chairs, with great colour and an inviting, deep profile. Graced with quality leather, the chairs can be reupholstered to individual taste. Solid joints and construction, delivered waxed, polished and ready for the home. Dimensions:...
