Description

A magnificent French Garniture Clock Set under original glass domes standing on dralon lined wooden platforms. The bodies of the garnitures are all hand painted as is the main central landscape painted plaque. The clock has a delicate chime on the half hour and hour, having a bell ring and being an eight day. The movement is a silk suspension and has a Paris stamp, being manufactured by Japy Freres. This set has been re-gilded many years ago and still shows a tremendous amount of detail in the cast body of the clock. There is no obvious damage and the overall condition and appearance is excellent for its age. The approximate Measurements are Main Dome Height 14 Inches. The two matching Garnitures are slightly less at approx. 13 Inches each. These measurements are with the bases included. The Width of the main clock at its base is quite deep measuring approx. 8 Inches. This Set would therefore fit easily on a side table or a grand mantelpiece.
