Description

Royal House Antiques is delighted to offer for sale this absolutely stunning 100% period correct William IV circa 1835 mahogany reclining library reading armchair with built in footrest. Please note the delivery fee listed is just a guide, it covers within the M25 only for the UK and local Europe only for international, if you would like an accurate quote, please send me your postcode and I'll provide you with the exact price. This chair is a wonder to behold, the reclining action is operated by two buttons one under each arm, you simply squeeze the arms and then slide back to one of the 14 different position settings, its all very well made. The back of the frame has the original patent label with manufacturers stamp on that has sadly worn but great that it still exists. The frame is all hand carved from solid English Mahogany. The oversized brass castors are period and original to the chair, they were made by (and stamped) Cope & Collinson who were the only company Howard & Son's trusted to make castors for them as they copied their design perfectly. As you can see the foot rest sits perfectly inside the frame, it slides out easily and has a height and position adju...
