Description

An unusual early 20th century antique carved oak hall seat or monk's bench. The hall seat has a decorative carved back panel with open arms to either side. The hinged seat opens to reveal a useful storage space below. There is further decorative carving to the front panel. The carved oak hall seat is raised on a plinth base. Item Ref; M-2435 . DIMENSIONS: Height - 85cm / Width - 72.5cm / Depth - 41cm / Seat Height - 51cm . CONDITION REPORT: In good antique condition throughout with some signs of age. There is surface wear in places including some age-related marks to the seat and to the back rest and arms (pictured). There are some splits to the seat (pictured) but this does not affect the integrity of the piece. The carved oak hall seat remains structurally solid and sound. An unusual size but a rather attractive piece. Our carpenter inspects, repairs, and restores our items, so you can have full confidence that what you buy from us is ready for your home! We ask that you take the time to look at all the photos as they form part of the description and condition report of the item. .
